

Setting a Consistent Long-term Rhythm

Legislative intent imagines a consistent implementation cycle for these programs.

The following graphic illustrates how this guidance is implemented over the next decade.

Setting a consistent long-term rhythm diagram. Legislative intent imagines a consistent implementation cycle for these programs. The following graphic illustrates how this guidance is implemented over the next decade.

Starting spring 2022, districts would pre-plan, then solicit public engagement during fall 2022, applying for funding spring 2023, executing for 2 years starting fall 2023 while implementing a full 4 year plan through spring 2027. However, the Literacy Jumpstart Biennium starts fall 2023 and the execution only lasts for 1.5 years from fall 2023 through spring 2025.

During spring 2024, districts should begin the full cycle of pre-planning, then engaging in fall 2024, and applying in spring 2025 so that the plan can be executed for 2 years starting fall 2025 for a total 4 year plan from spring 2025 to spring 2029. The regular cycle begins again spring 2026 for pre-planning, fall 2026 for public engagement, and spring 2027 to apply for funding.

The diagram shows that the usual cycle will be for a new plan to start being developed every other year afterward.